

---

Beginner songs.

Posted by jtcomctag - 2008/08/19 05:48

---

You mentioned that there was a message posted on this forum about easy 3 chord songs and other easy songs to learn while going thru level 1 and 2. Can you please let me know what they are and where to find them? Thanks.

=====

Re:Beginner songs.

Posted by jeremylaursen - 2008/08/25 01:12

---

You can find some great beginner things to get into in a few places.

1. Artist Styles
2. Lead Techniques
3. Rhythm Techniques

Also, given the style of music that you listen to, here is a couple easy ones for you to check out:

All Along the Watchtower
Friend Of The Devil
Sunshine of Your Love
Blue Sky
Crossroads
Thrill Is Gone

I hope this helps.

Jeremy Laursen

=====

Re:Beginner Lesson.

Posted by rebecca harms - 2008/09/11 18:44

---

Hi, How long does it take for a teacher to get back to you with your first lesson?
I just signed up yesterday. Been looking around, following some vidios. Does the teacher email you with your lessons?

Thank you, Rebecca

=====

Re:Beginner Lesson.

Posted by jeremylaursen - 2008/09/22 02:25

---

Hi Rebecca. The first thing that you can do with the site is hop on the live chat. The live chat feature on our site is a fantastic tool. You can use it whenever you have questions like this, or if you have specific questions about lessons, or music in general. When you get on the site what you want to do is get on the student evaluation forms to begin with. You can fill out one of those forms and you will receive response within 24 hours. These forms will help us to guide you into your first lessons on the site. They are also a good way to monitor your progress and think about what things you may want to work on next. I hope this helps.

Jeremy Laursen

=====

Re:Beginner Lesson.

Posted by chefscire - 2008/09/23 08:46

---

I signed up a few days ago and they said they were out for a few day. I understand they need to make money like we do. I think every one gets the same beginner lessons though. Not personal lessons.

---

They seem to read the post here and answers are good and help full.
There is not really a teacher giving personal lessons as far as I can see you go to the beginner lessons #1 and go from there on your own like most web sights I have seen or DVD's! They do offer what seems like good support though.
A few guys at work seemed to remember the beginner lessons #1 and described them pretty close to what I saw. so I think every one starts at the cookie cutter #1 lesson.
The one thing is the guy that teaches the leason #1 can play very good and show beginner mistakes and how to fix them.
Others out there do not.
Good luck on learning to play! Let me know what you think of this site and how you progress through the steps!
ChefScire

=====

Re:Beginner Lesson.

Posted by rick - 2008/09/24 04:49

---

If you enroll and have just started we can only start you off like everyone else. Students that come here have been playing for a while will get a more personal feel at the very beginning because we do nothave to cover the basics...

As you progress and interact with us you will feel very well taken care of.

Rick

=====

Re:Beginner Lesson.

Posted by rebeccaharms - 2008/09/29 19:04

---

I thank you for the help.

=====

Re:Beginner Lesson.

Posted by rebeccaharms - 2008/09/29 19:04

---

I thank you for the help.

=====