
Hello

Posted by mozza1 - 2009/01/31 20:35

Have just signed up and can't wait to get started. Have been playing (trying to) for about 2 years now and am nowhere near the level I should be which is sooo frustrating. Still, I've found SAMI so things can only get better. :cheer:

You fellow guitarists aren't old at all lol. I'm almost 30.
Anyways.. I signed up for SAMI when I first bought my guitar a little over a year ago. I didn't really have the time to stick with it so, I cancelled my membership. I'm back now (as of last week), starting all over and I'm loving it. My practice sessions are so much more intense than before and, I'm learning at an accelerated pace compared to my previous attempt. Can't wait to see where this road takes me!:cheer:
